

Tunetap makes more music by letting fans crowdfund concerts so artists can focus on the art rather than the business. Artists will be able to easily set up and fund live events, without having to risk their own money guaranteeing minimums. We also look at fan engagement to help artists and venues predict demand and automatically plan and schedule events. Real music happens at live events, and we believe the industry will be moving there. Come build the future of music.

The Mobile developer builds the native mobile apps for iOS and Android. As we create the future of music, we want to make Tunetap available to as many users as possible. Our web platform provides a JSON API, and the Mobile developer is responsible for taking this data and presenting it in a beautiful, engaging UI. There is the opportunity for promotion to CTO.

Responsibilities

- Develop and maintain native mobile apps on iOS and Android
- Create a beautiful, engaging UI
- Work with web developers to access and work with data to and from mobile apps
- Ensure consistency of experience for users across platforms, where possible
- Recruit developer talent, as needed
- Develop and maintain internal tools for team operations and business functions

Requirements

- Significant experience in iOS and/or Android development
- Internship or experience designing and building intuitive UIs with an emphasis on UX
- Background in Computer Science or Information Science
- Drive and ability to learn, explore, and use new technologies
- Familiarity with git (Github) and coding in a team environment

Desirables

- A drive to create great user experiences and an eye for detail
- Ability to use available data to make decisions, or to gather more data to make decisions
- Comfortable with modern web technologies, including HTML5, CSS3, and Javascript
- Familiarity with Rails
- Ability to understand and develop user metrics and analytics
